Abbeville, S. C., May 4th, 1904.

FRIENDS COMING AND GOING.

Mrs. J. S. Cochran left last Monday for a visit to her friends in Charleston, S. C. Miss Annie Moore after a pleasant visit to relatives in Abbeville left Sunday for her home in Augusta, Ga.

Mr. R. S. Lusk has just returned from a delightful trip to Washington, D. C., where he took in the White House, met his excellency President Roosevelt and other distinguished gentlemen, and upon whom he made a most favorable impression by his fine personal and affable and courteous manner. He was most cordially and courteously received and won the esteem and good will of all it was his pleasure to meet. During his stay in the city he was the honored guest of his friend Hon. Wyatt Allen, who extended to him every courtesy of the city.

Miss Josie Lyon, the pretty and popular clerk in the city, attended the orchestra concert at Greenwood where she spent a most delightful evening, returning next morning without a single hair out of place.

Mr. Eddie Roche left alone, held down the post office in first class style. He is a quick, reliable and attentive to his business and is quite popular with the patrons of the city office.

Many friends of Mr. George W. Lomax are glad to see him at his place of business again, if only to look around and be with his friends.

Mrs. Thomas F. Frost, of Charleston is visiting relatives in the city, and will also be the guest of her nephew, Mr. Edwin Parker and family in their pretty country home in the Flatwoods.

Mrs. John O. Wilson, of Greenwood, were welcome and honored guests within our city gates last week. Dr. Wilson preached a fine sermon in the Methodist church Sunday night, and held quarterly conference at Bethel church on Monday. Dr. and Mrs. Wilson hold a warm place in the hearts of the people of Abbeville, in whose homes they always have a cordial and hearty welcome.

Mrs. and Mrs. F. W. R. Nance, of Lowndesville, were among the welcome visitors to our city last Monday.

Mr. B. A. Boyd, of Anderson, accompanied by his nephew, Mr. Harper Boyd of Lattimer, were guests of the city last Monday.

Mrs. T. E. and Billy Boyd, of Mount Carmel, were among the crowd in the city Saturday.

Hon. I. H. McCallie and daughter, Mrs. Lella McCallie Linder, of Hartwell, Ga., were the guests a few days of last week of Mr. P. B. Speed.

Miss Douthett, of Pendleton, S. C., was the charming guest of Mr. P. B. Speed several days of this week.

Mrs. Smith, of Batesburg, S. C., and Miss Mattie Caldwell, of Clover, S. C., were the guests of Mrs. J. M. Gambrell last week.

Mr. Lewis Blount has gone to Augusta to accept a good position.

Mr. Frank Jones is a high stepper, but last week he stepped too high and unfortunately came in contact with the car wheels, which resulted in a painful injury, so that amputation of part of one foot was necessary. Frank is not stepping so high now, but will soon be all right, at least his many friends sincerely hope so.

NEWS ON ROUTE NO. 3.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Greene, of Philadelphia, Pa., came on to witness the Thomas Dudley marriage, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Parker last Friday.

Mr. J. H. H. of Ridgeway, S. C., was also the charming guest of the same household at the same time.

Miss Thomas came to the city on Sunday where she was the guest of her friend, Miss Lily Templeton.

Miss Lily Templeton, who is a beautiful young woman, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. H. of Ridgeway, S. C., last week and pronounced it a beautiful church marriage. An account of which is beautifully written up for the Press and Banner by a fair correspondent of the Flatwoods who writes a graceful pen whose style is always touched with wit and humor.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wilson, of Watts, with their three little ones, were here last week with relatives at Gratiotville.

Mrs. Mary W. Parker after an extended and most pleasant visit to friends and relatives at home is home again.

Mr. S. C. Lusk is one of the "boss" truck farmers of the upcountry, largely supplying our home market with garden vegetables, such as onions, lettuce, radishes, cabbage, etc. He is early and late as a farmer, for you can always find something for your table at his pretty and well kept farm.

Mr. Henry Hill of the firm of A. M. Hill & Sons, is another farmer in this line who has many nice vegetables at his store, brought in fresh from his farm.

Miss Lily Lusk came in Monday to engage with Mr. C. W. Kendall in his moustache-making department, which he has just opened upstairs over his store with a full force of his dis.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Penney, Mr. Schram and Mr. J. H. Walker, of Sharon church, attended quarterly conference at Bethel last Monday. Sharon school will close another successful season tomorrow (Thursday) and anticipate paying a basket picnic on the school house grounds to which the public are cordially invited. Let every one come and bring well filled baskets and enjoy a pleasant day's recreation.

Prof. Harwood and his assistant Miss Nanette Gilliam, deserve great credit for the successful management of this fine school for the past season, and we are sure they have the hearty thanks and good will of their patrons and the love, respect and esteem of all pupils.

Mr. J. C. Curry, of Spartanburg College, spent last Sunday at the home of Mr. David Gilliam of Sharon, as the guest of Prof. Harwood. Mr. Curry has many friends in the Sharon section who always accord him a cordial and hearty welcome.

Mr. J. J. Edwards spent part of last week with her son, Mr. J. W. Edwards and family at the Flatwoods.

Miss Rena Kennedy, Miss Isabelle Evans, Miss Rosa Knox, Misses Belle and Rockie McKinnon, Misses Nanette and Clara Lee Gilliam with Prof. J. C. Harmon attended the oratorical contest last Friday at Greenwood. They enjoyed their visit and were delightfully entertained.

SPECIAL MENTION.

The "Lighthouse Robbery" last week was greeted with a full house each evening who were charmingly entertained with the beautiful dramatic play so splendidly rendered. Had our home talent been "away from home" they would not have been taken for "amateurs," but for "stars" of the first magnitude, as the cast of characters were well chosen and each one carried out their part with personal credit as well as to the grand success of the play. The scenery was grand, picturesque and beautiful and everything went off in the shape and first class style.

The Abbeville Medium came off the press last week in fine style—a large brand new type fresh and clear, and up to date in all respects, and it gave us pleasure as we handed it out along Route No. 3, to hear the many compliments passed upon it in its next dress.

Commissioner Nickels is putting our road in first class shape. If he only had a rake to follow the scrape to clear out the rocks, roots and trash thrown up from the side ditches and left in the middle of the road, we think it would be a great improvement. Such things are bad on bumpy wheels and horses feet and should always be removed, leaving the road clear and smooth.

A substantial and neat wire fence with gentle posts is being put around Lebanon cemetery.

THE CARRIER BOYS.

Carrier No. 2 is putting on airs and is sailing over his route in a brand new top buggy with a fine horse. On his first drive he was sailing so high he ran into a tree top and badly damaged the top of his buggy, but he made his round, and got there all the same.

Carrier No. 1 has been feasting on strawberries and cream, and on such fine food is feeling his keeping.

Carrier No. 3 has been feasting on "garden truck"—hasn't seen any strawberries yet—does think they grow on Route No. 3.

Many of the stores of the city began closing at six o'clock yesterday, and if all would close the odds would be the same. Let the clerks and sales-ladies have the spring and summer evenings, for they deserve it. In the many of the stores, the clerks would act through life with better health if they would take more "out-door" recreation and fresh air.

Mr. Frank C. DePre is the "poultry man" on Magazine Hill. He already has about 200 young chicks, and that, too, with hens for incubators.

Cotton is popping up here and there, and with a good shower, splendid stands would be secured. Small grain needs rain.

OUR SICK FRIENDS.

Mr. George Penney, after a week's illness, is up again.

Miss Mary Hill, daughter of Mr. R. M. Hill, is now convalescing after a severe illness.

Mr. Harry Hill is sick, but it is hoped he will soon be all right and out among his friends.

Mrs. R. M. Haddon has been absent from the store the past week on account of sickness.

Mrs. Eliza Gambrell Cason, after several weeks' illness, is much better.

Little Ruth, the daughter of Mr. McLean, is now quite sick at the home of her grand mother, Mrs. David Gilliam.

DEATH OF G. A. DOUGLASS.

Mr. G. A. Douglass, a well known and most highly esteemed citizen, died at his home in this city last Wednesday afternoon, April 27, 1904, in his 57th year.

The deceased had been in declining health for some time, when finally his mission on earth was ended and he entered upon a new life beyond the grave. Mr. Douglass lived in this community all his life, and his record is known to this people. He was a man of high integrity—honored in the sight of God and man. He was a man of fine intellect, a successful merchant for many years, and in this line of business at the time of his death.

By his death a fond husband, a loving and indulgent father, and a good citizen, has been removed from our midst. He has been useful in his day and generation, serving his country faithfully in war and in peace. He was among the first who volunteered in the war between the States, in which he was a true and valiant soldier during the entire four years of the rebellion.

In manner he was gentle and quiet, courteous to all, and a man who had a kinder and better heart, with outstretched hand he was always ready and willing to help those in need. In summing up his eventful life, it may be truthfully said, he was a "good and useful man," and spent the years of his life in doing as much good and as little harm as any man; and we hope as he has laid down his earthly armor, he has through faith in Christ joined the great army beyond the River, where he will wear the victor's crown, as one that has come up through great tribulations and earthly trials.

The funeral services were conducted at his home on Thursday afternoon, where a great company of friends had assembled to manifest their love and esteem for their departed friend, as well as that of his bereaved family. Interment took place at Upper Long Cane cemetery. Many emblems and designs in beautiful floral offerings were placed upon his grave as silent tokens of love and affection. The bereaved family and the sincere sympathy of this entire community.

In 1885 there were only 16,000 to 17,000 Jews in Jerusalem. Last year in the city they numbered at least 41,000. In all about one hundred and fifty thousand are actually living in Palestine.

What the Japanese need now more than anything else is large consignments of American mules. Our little friends of the Orient will find that a war can not be satisfactorily prosecuted without mules.

Automobiles have one great advantage over the horse. They don't have to have their tails cut off. Neither can the owners be prosecuted for cruelty to their animals. The animals that get hurt are those in front of the machines.

The boll weevil, it seems, is not an unmixed evil. By eating up a third of the cotton crop it greatly enhanced the price of the remainder.

Farmers will hardly favor the eight-hour day movement. Their rule is to work from sunrise to sundown, or until the job is completed.

"Bad roads in Korea prevent the Japanese from attacking the Russians." That sounds familiar. If bad roads will protect this country there is little danger of the enemy getting at us during the spring months at least.
